STRATEGIC HR – BUSINESS PARTNERSHIP & BEYOND

3 Day intensive development programme that highlights the progress and key elements of HR's progress and impact on Business Success to date and looks forward to an evolving role that continues that progress and impact.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

This programme charts the progress of HR from a supplier of administrative services to that of a strategic business partner today and the potential of a key change adviser of tomorrow. It emphasizes the key services that make up the business partner proposition as well as the structures and (more importantly) capabilities needed for HR to deliver the services that aid business success.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES

On completion of the programme participants (from HR) will be able to design and deliver an impactful HR service that aids business success or (if from the line) demand the key people advice and services needed for gaining and maintaining competitive advantage.

SESSIONS INCLUDE

A summary of the progress made by HR to date in successfully moving from an administrator to a supplier of services that aid business success. Identification of the 5 key services that make up that success and a look forward to the evolving role of influencer, stakeholder manager and shared business leader.

01 Growth and Impact of HR – From Administrator to Business Partner

A review of HR progress to date and the drivers of that progress. The key influences that have brought about the sea-change in the HR role and its impact on business progress and success.

Identification of the key services provided by the Advanced HR Business Partner and outline capabilities, roles (HRBP) and structures needed by HR individuals to deliver the advice and services demanded today.

03 Five Key Impactive HR Services

Strategic advice and counsel: identification of strategic human capital issues and responses for progressive success. These vary with time but a focus here on strategic advice to the business on current people trends.

- 04 Five Key Impactive HR Services
Performance and Reward Management. Adding deep dive into value added to business via enhanced HR expertise. Not always thought of as the HR remit, but one that experience proves to be substantially value added.
- 05 Five Key Impactive HR Services
Talent & Organisation Development Management. The essence of HR impact on business progress. Probably the key of keys as the “war for talent” continues to be a major challenge for most businesses.
- 06 HR Metrics and Analysis – link to business outcomes
Establishing key metrics to track, analyse, report and guide progress for both HR and the organisation. An increasing need to test progress of the various new approaches and initiatives, amend accordingly and progress further.
- 07 A focus on a data driven approach business linked people metrics.
- 08 Predictive analytics-determining what’s around the corner; scenarios.

Key action points and takeaways for the organisation, business and individual.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

On completion of the programme participants will have;

- Increased their knowledge, skills and confidence to provide an international standard strategic HR service to their organisation.
- Identified and practiced the five key services that provide a best practice HR service.
- Determined the best HR structure for business partner service delivery for and progressed their capabilities to deliver those services.
- Outlined the HR and related business metrics that track progress and highlight next stage improvements.
- Clearly constructed a transfer of learning action plan that improves personal and HR department impact on business success for the future.

NB. An interactive yet stretching programme that can be enjoyed by HR professionals from any HR discipline and by senior leaders who can learn what is increasingly on offer to make their businesses more successful via improved human capital attraction and management.

- 03 Rewards Management
Differentiated rewards in line with performance and potential.
- 04 Performance, Development and Rewards
Connections for meaningful outcomes.
- 05 Appetite and attitude
Key determinants of success.

06 Outcomes and links to other pieces of the “employer of choice” puzzle.

Key action points and takeaways for both the organisation and the individual.**

LEARNING OUTCOMES

On completion of the programme participants will have;

- Increased their knowledge, skills and confidence to execute international standard performance, development and reward management.
- Clarified Performance Management’s (PM) role in the delivery of strategic intentions and plans.
- Identified and practiced the key stages of best practice PM including KPI setting, what and how achievement reviews and objective differentiated performance ratings.
- Experienced the value of development reviews, how to conduct them and offer appropriate learning post the review.
- Examined and determined the most attractive “mix” of a fixed, variable and benefits rewards approach to attract and retain best talent.
- Clearly constructed a transfer of learning action plan that progresses their organization’s performance, development and reward approaches to attract/retain talent and improve bottom line deliverables.

NB. An interactive yet stretching programme that can be enjoyed by HR professionals and Business leaders and managers alike.

FACILITATING KNOWLEDGE, CAPABILITY AND ATTITUDE GROWTH

OVERVIEW

Traditional training of trainers has focused primarily on the ability to impart knowledge, facilitate the best ways to ensure that knowledge is learned and then potentially test knowledge retention in the shorter or (sometimes) longer term.

Capabilities (skills) development has also been covered to some extent in areas such as customer response, sales and management for example – although it is harder to prove learning has taken place (and to what level) when developing capabilities.

Attitude (or willing commitment) is rarely looked at, although many would agree that this aspect of a person's development can significantly affect the implementation, use and impact of whatever knowledge and skills they possess.

So, in this programme we visit all three aspects of learning and how they may be best facilitated by those conducting a training programme or event – with the influencing of attitude (sometimes referred to as appetite) perhaps a significant progressive key for many who have not experienced these approaches before.

OVERALL OBJECTIVES

To develop the knowledge, skills and confidence for participant trainers to work across the three areas of learning effectively and with desired impact – to international standards!

SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES:

On conclusion of the programme, participants will :

- Be able to determine key knowledge, capability and attitude learning objectives.
- Be able to design appropriate approaches and methods to develop all 3 learning areas.
- Have practiced facilitating a knowledge learning session.
- Have practiced facilitating a capability development session.
- Have practiced facilitating an attitude commitment session.
- Explored and experienced international learning facilitation best practice.
- Examined learning evaluation and how/where best practiced and implemented.

MANAGEMENT: BEST PRACTICE – BEST RESULTS

A 3 Day (18 Learning hours) intensive development programme that highlights, progresses and implements international Management best practice.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

A focused examination of Management practices that provides participants with the necessary range of responses needed to be successful managers today and in the future – wearing both their business driver and people focussed “hats”. Clearly defines the capabilities needed in the management role and develops accordingly.

Suitable for managers at all levels to hone their current skill level and prepare themselves for more senior roles – to upskill their ability for today’s fast changing environment.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES

At the end of the programme, participants will have raised their capability and confidence to deliver organisation & business results from an upgraded personal competence perspective.

SESSIONS INCLUDE

Essentially determining the key attributes of the high performing manager, identifying the key personal, business and people capabilities & deliverables needed by successful managers with a focus and understanding of impact being influenced to a certain extent by the “led”.

- 01 Management
What we knew, what we have learned and how to apply that learning in the organisational context.
- 02 The Demands of the Led and Key Responses Required
Emerging and continuing demands from the workforce and the impact on management and an impactive management style.
- 03 Creating Strategic Intent
A look forward – the context for ownership and performance deliverables.
- 04 VMV, Strategy, AOP and KPIs
The connections – strategy implementation, measurable deliverables and gaining willing commitment of the workforce.

05

Strategy Implementation

Via talent – the lifeblood of continuing success (more connections).

06

Strategy Implementation

Via engagement – determining where you stand on gaining “willing commitment” and how to improve going forward (even more connections).

07

A focus on a data driven approach business linked people metrics.

08

Predictive analytics – determining what’s around the corner; scenarios.

Key action points and takeaways for both the organisation and the individual. *****

NB. An interactive yet stretching programme that can be enjoyed by current incumbent managers or by those aspiring to and preparing for more senior positions.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

On completion of the programme participants will have;

- Increased their knowledge, skills and confidence to provide impactful business and people management.

Determined the key roles in their business/organisation that require management capabilities and established how those key capabilities can be developed.

- Examined a number of case studies of effective and ineffective management to produce a success criterion as a guide for future focus.
- Practiced and developed their ability to create and articulate an organization’s strategic intent, workforce alignment and links to key deliverables.
- Completed a range of engagement activities and outlined initiatives to improve workforce engagement.

- Identified key business initiatives and linked people metrics that aid decision making and initiatives required to improve.
- Examined and understood the value and use of predictive analytics.
- Clearly constructed a transfer of learning action plan that improves their current and future leadership impact on business/organisation success.

NB: An interactive and involved learning programme that will benefit those that are currently in management roles as well as those aspiring to higher level, greater impact positions.
